

Dance To Follow Concert By Glee Club At Alcazar

Loyola College's Glee Club will present a spring concert at the Alcazar on Thursday, April 8. The concert, which will begin at 8:30 p. m. is being given under the direction of Mr. Felice Iula, chairman of the music department at the College.

A dance will be held after the recital from ten until twelve. One ticket, priced at one dollar, will admit a person to both the concert and the dance.

Bob Iula To Play

Bob Iula, brother of Mr. Felice Iula, will provide the music for the dance. His orchestra is known throughout the city as one of the leading dance bands.

Mr. Iula's orchestra, which has appeared many times in Baltimore, has arranged a special program for the occasion.

Concert Plans Unusual

The Glee Club, consisting of over fifty voices, will present an unusual program of songs ranging from Thanks Be To Thee to Dry Bones. The entire Club will take part in the affair and solo parts will be handled by James H. Dietz, Niles E. Fields and Albert Fitzgerald.

A few other selections included in the program are: Song of the Vagabonds, Kentucky Babe and A Little Close Harmony sung in the style of a barber-shop quartet.

Ideas Entirely New

This is the first time in the history of the College that an entire concert has been conducted by the Glee Club. The Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola College, expressed great hopes for the success of the venture and added "... for this is the finest Glee Club that the College has ever seen."

A special committee of Glee Club members has been appointed by the Office of the Coordinator to distribute tickets among the students.

Council Meets Party Expense

Highlights of Student Council activity have been the appointment of a committee headed by Richard A. Hartman to prepare plans for the Student Chapel Drive and the vote of the Council to refuse to allow Loyola's entry into the N. S. A. Artist Pool Committee.

The Council also voted twenty-five dollars towards the expense of the basketball team's welcoming party.

Hartman was appointed to gather the class presidents together to set the student quota and to consolidate his committee's work with that of the Loyola Publicity Department.

In voting to decline membership in the N. S. A. Artist Pool Committee, the Council pointed out that if Loyola were to accept membership in this committee, it would be required to accept any speaker which the committee might engage. All speakers would not be acceptable.

Other activity of the Council has been the voting of fifty-five dollars for the expenses to be incurred in attending the N. F. C. C. S. Convention in Philadelphia on April 22.

Junior Prom Slated For Friday, June 4

Junior Prom plans for 1948 include an off-campus dance to be held on Friday, June 4, George Uchuck and Joseph Raphael, presidents of the Junior Classes, announced last week.

The choice of the date was made following a combined meeting of both classes on March 5. It was also decided to hold the prom off the campus at that meeting.

The prom will be held at the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel and the music will be provided by Carl Hamilton and his Orchestra.

Because of the two presidents of the Junior Classes, it is likely that there will be two prom queens reigning instead of one.

Seven Hundred Persons Attend Everyman Presentation Here

Everyman, the age-old morality play, was presented by the Mask and Rapier Society of Loyola College in the Gymnasium on Sunday, March 14. Approximately seven hundred persons attended. The play was under the co-direction of Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S. J., and Robert Custer.

Everyman was portrayed by William Heffner, and supporting roles were played by Edward Clarke, also Business Manager; Robert Nayden, Francis Gallagher, Robert Gallagher, Emerson Clarke, William Carver, Daniel Shehan, Francis Pacienza, Theodore Heying, David Nottingham, Richard Rebbert, Cy-

Alumni Banquet Fetes Oldest Living Grads

Plans for the 1948 Loyola College Alumni Banquet on March 30 include dedication of the event to the graduates of Loyola who have entered the legal profession and to the two oldest living graduates of Loyola College, both lawyers.

Mr. Charles Bouchet and Mr. Edward Donnelly, the oldest living graduates, will occupy seats of honor at the main table of the Alumni Banquet along with the guest speaker, James A. Farley, and the other distinguished personages attending the dinner at the Emerson Hotel.

McWilliams Toastmaster

Former Judge of the Circuit Court McWilliams, a graduate of Loyola, will serve as the Toastmaster and will introduce the guest speaker.

Others seated at the main table will be the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola College; the Honorable Thomas J. D'Alesandro, Mayor of Baltimore City; William J. O'Donnell, President of the Alumni Association; Clarence J. Rodgers, Chairman of the Banquet; Clement R. Mercaldo, the most recent graduate of Law School from the Alumni ranks; and the presidents of Loyola High School, Mt. St. Joseph's College and Calvert Hall College.

Expect Four Hundred

The Committee members are expecting approximately four hundred graduates to attend the Banquet. The tables will be arranged so that the graduates of the same years will be together.

Spring Term Made Optional

Attendance at Loyola during the Spring Terms of 1948 and 1949 is optional. This announcement was made last week by the Dean of Studies in letters to the student body.

In announcing this ruling, the Dean set the dates of the 1948 Spring Term from May 24 to July 20.

Change Graduation

Those who decide that they will not attend during the Spring Terms will have their graduations postponed one and in some cases two semesters.

All letters to the students were accompanied by postcards whereon students were to inform the Dean whether or not they intend to take the Spring Term.

Majority Elect To Stay

Father Sullivan stated that the majority of the student replies indicated that they would take the Spring Term.

Those of the freshman who decide to take only one of the two remaining Spring Terms will also not be graduated with their present classes. Both Spring Terms are necessary.

Elections for the offices of the President of the Student Council and the President of the Athletic Association will be held on Monday, May 3, it was announced by Dudley M. Shoemaker, President of the Student Council.

Results of the elections will not be disclosed until Friday, May 7 at which time the results will be published in THE GREYHOUND.

Nominations Closed

Today was the final day for the applicants for nomination to file their names along with the lists of seventy-five endorsees from the student body.

Because the Secretary of the Student Council, Francis X. Gallagher, is a candidate, the handling of the nomination lists was delegated to Spencer L. Davidson. Usually this task falls to the Secretary of the Council.

Campaigns To Follow

Immediately after the Easter holidays are completed and the students have returned to school, the candidates will begin their campaigns. The campaigns will extend from March 31 until April 30.

On Monday, May 3, balloting will take place in all classes under the supervision of the members of the Student Council. Those members who are candidates will not officiate.

The new officers will be inaugurated at the Loyola Night celebration in May.

Advertising Club Honors Fr. Talbot

The Education Committee of the Advertising Club of Baltimore will dedicate 1948 Education Week to the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola College and to "What Loyola College Has Contributed to Human Progress."

Every year this group dedicates Education Week to some outstanding person in the field of education and to the organization with which that person is affiliated.

Easter Greetings

Plenty of pseudo-poetic finery decorates the feast and the season of Easter. The feast comes at the beginning of Spring, when the death of winter-time passes, and the life of summer-time is being born. The emotions of men are naturally resurgent at this season when the green of growing things spreads over the earth. But the emotions of Easter are deep-seated in dogma and the poetry of Easter is sublime in its realism. Easter means the day of Resurrection. There was a man who died on a cross, who truly died with his heart pierced by a spear. There was a man whose dead corpse was put in a tomb hewed out of rock, with a huge stone sealed at its entry. There was a man who three days later returned to life, with the same body that had been dead. That man was not only man. He was God. Jesus Christ, of His own power, gave away His life and gave life back to Himself. By His self-resurrection, Jesus Christ proved that He was God. He proved also that there is resurrection for us, the sequence for us of passing from life to death to eternal life. My word to the students this Easter is that of hope for an eternal life guaranteed by prayer and good works in this present life.

ALUMNI DOINGS

By Edward A. Doehler, '30

President Urges Prompt Payment

The President of the Loyola College Alumni Association, William J. O'Donnell, has issued a special request to all the members that they pay their dues as soon as possible.

The Office of the Secretary has mailed out the bills for the coming year but, as yet, the returns have not been very gratifying. Your special attention is called to the new type of membership inaugurated this year and entitled "Sustaining Member." To qualify for such membership, an alumnus must submit a check for twenty-five dollars. The response for this new type of membership has not been what was expected.

Alumni Banquet Success Expected

By the time the next issue of THE GREYHOUND is published, the Alumni Banquet will be only a memory. Even though the event has not taken place, all indications point towards a genuine success for the Association in general and the Banquet Committee in particular.

To survive and grow, an organization of our nature must be constantly engaged in such pursuits and endeavors as the Alumni Banquet. It is hoped that the success which this Banquet will bring to the Association will be an added reason for more wholehearted cooperation from all the Alumni.

Old Favorites Return To Take Limelight Away From New Tunes

by Dick Coleman

It seems that an old style is coming back again on records, and it seems that it's being instrumentally done by Mr. Art Mooney and the Uptown Street Band. Several months ago they came out with a quaint oldie entitled "I'M LOOKING OVER A FOUR LEAF CLOVER" . . . Well, Mr. Mooney has done it again with another oldie and the same old ensemble.

This new oldie is entitled . . . "BABY FACE" . . . It starts out with the same intro as "FOUR LEAF CLOVER" and with the same old banjo, guitar, or whatever it is they use. From a musician's standpoint, it has been said that "FOUR LEAF CLOVER" set the music world back ten years.

The boys who made such a statement are probably just a little jealous that they don't get a nickle a copy as probably Mr. Mooney does. It's apparent that "BABY FACE" will put just about the same amount in Mr. Mooney's pocket. Enough said!

We haven't mentioned our buddy-buddy Perry Como for several issues, so we'll do so now. His million-dollar vocal cords have come up with a new album billed as "A SENTIMENTAL DATE WITH PERRY COMO." It's said.

The only good rendition in it is a unique styling of a new ballad, "WHAT'LL I DO" . . . The main reason for Perry Como's plug in this issue is for his terrific job on the favorite love song of everyone . . . "BECAUSE." It's on all the Juke Boxes today. It's a take-off on his old "TEMPTATION" from the standpoint of being dramatic as all heck. Give a listen.

Up and coming tunes go thusly . . . Nellie Lutcher's fine deal with a tune called "FINE BROWN FRAME" . . . Tony Martin's "HOO-RAY FOR LOVE" you'll like.

Loyola Joins In March On Capitol

Members of the Loyola College Student Body joined with students from other local colleges in a "march on the Capitol" in support of the Marshall Plan on March 13.

The students met in front of the Mellon Art Gallery at 1:30 p.m. and after assembling there, marched directly to the Capitol.

Action was taken after the Student Council voted to authorize Loyola's participation at an open meeting in the Library on March 12.

At that meeting, Spencer L. Davidson, editor-in-chief of THE GREYHOUND, was named Publicity Director for the N. S. A. from Loyola College.

Council Lists Renovations

Improvements in the appearance of the campus to take place in the next month will include the completion of a concrete walk across the front of the Faculty House lawn, the replacement of the L's in the sign on Charles Street and the erection of a Trophy Case in the Library Building.

The initial work has already been undertaken in the walk across the lawn and the concrete will be poured in the next few days, weather permitting.

Although the students of the University of Maryland have not returned the L's taken from the sign on Charles Street, steps have been taken to purchase new ones.

The Student Council has appointed a committee to determine the best site for the proposed Trophy Case.

Evergreen Scenes

by Frank Gallagher

Toast Of The Week: May you live all the days of your life.

Party Of The Week: The Welcome Home Party. Never, since the immortal Sherman marched through Atlanta, has there been anything to equal the gusto with which the b'boys escorted the basketball team back to Evergreen after meeting the Hounds at Mt. Royal Station. It took the b'boys just ten seconds flat to transform the motorcycle policemen from an escort into a rear guard.

The gendarmes are probably still wondering what became of the cars they were supposed to escort.

Quip Of The Week: We call our rich relatives the kin we love to touch.

Contest Of The Week: Open only to students of Notre Dame of Maryland. We will give away absolutely free and without any additional charge three tickets to a West Point Tea Dance to the young lady who writes the best essay in one word or less on "What Annapolis Means To Me." Blank entry sheets will be given preference over all other entries.

All entries must be accompanied by three tarnished brass buttons and a self portrait of Tecumseh dating a Mt. St. Agnes girl.

Slip Of The Week: A staunch Greyhound fan, having just survived the Mt. St. Mary's basketball game, was leading his date out of the gym. He put his hand behind him, took her hand and after giving it a gentle squeeze, said "Follow me, dear, I'll have you out of here in no time."

When he arrived at the exit, he turned around to her and perceived, much to his embarrassment, that he was holding the hand of a six-foot gentleman who glowered down at him with fierce mien. Hastily releasing his hand, he gulped and stammered, "Excuse Me." It just goes to prove that these hand lotions ads aren't all they're cracked up to be.

Thought For The Week: Depressions may bring people closer to the church, but so do funerals.

Horror Of The Week: In case you haven't noticed it, the Sports Editor of THE GREYHOUND has made no reference in this issue to the untimely defeat of the Varsity Badminton Team at the hands of the racketeers from Notre Dame of Maryland.

Let there be no excuses nor sour grapes. He didn't print anything on the sports pages because he felt that such a report really belonged in a humor column. The nearest thing we have to that is Evergreen Scenes, so I'm told.

At the last report, Messrs. Parlett, Vince Gallagher, Davidson, Norris, Beeler, Galloway and Roche were seen at a small frontier town in the Yukon purchasing dog sleds and provisions for a year.

We believe that they have taken their defeat a bit too seriously. There will be no international repercussions. Manhood shall not be crucified upon a badminton net.

It must be remembered that they were defeated by a group of young ladies who have had every opportunity to develop their game. Said Spence Davidson, "I was amazed. Just as soon as my female opponent defeated me, she took a few short breaths and entered a basketball game where she scored twenty points."

Kenning Directs Drive To Increase Advertising

Calvert Kenning

The current Ad Drive of THE GREYHOUND to meet rising costs is being directed by Calvert Kenning, head of the Business Staff.

This year, since Kenning has been directing the business, advertising has reached 126 inches, which, compared to September '45, is an increase of 300%.

Although the advertising has reached an all time high, the paper has still been forced to curtail a number of issues from eight to four pages because of the general trend of increase in costs and the step-up in the number of issues to twenty-two.

Five hundred dollars more is needed at present to maintain the paper at the present eight page level.

"We don't want complimentary ads," Kenning said. "Our policy is that we definitely have something to sell, and the advertising is on a business rather than a friendship basis."

The drive will close in two weeks. In the meantime ad blanks or the ads themselves may be turned in either to Calvert Kenning, Jerry Jackson or Frank Collins.

Kenning attended City College where he worked on the City College Collegian. It was while he was working on the newspaper that he gained an active interest in the advertising field.

Final Spring Lecture Given

A lecture entitled "The Marshall Plan, Will It Work?" was given by the Rev. Wilfred Parsons in the Loyola Library on Sunday, March 21. The last of a series of three talks, it was preceded by "Italy, Will the Communists Capture It?" on March 7, and by "France, Will It Join Western Europe or the Communist Bloc?" on March 14.

Fr. Parsons is a member of the faculty at Catholic University and a noted lecturer. All three of his Loyola talks were attended by large audiences and received favorable write-ups in the daily papers.

A series of spring lectures will be presented in the Evergreen Library in the near future. The subjects, speakers, and dates of these talks will be announced by the office of the Rev. John E. Wise, S.J., Dean of the Evening School.

July '49 Class Orders Rings; Price Reduced to $32.50

Raymond Wittlesberger, president of the July, '49 class, announced that all class members who wish to place orders for class rings should submit their names to him sometime before March 31.

Students will be seen for their ring sizes on April 1 or 2. A deposit of five dollars will be required with each order. The rings will be ready three or four weeks later.

Rings for the July '49 class will be made by the A. H. Fetting Company, of Baltimore. Because students are purchasing their rings in groups this year, Mr. Fetting has allowed a 10 to 20% price reduction. The rings will cost $32.50.

A chart will be made on the symbolic words of these languages, and will be displayed for the students.

The Critilog

by George Herman

When you mention Falstaff what famous English actor do you think of? Ralph Richardson? Well, you're right in linking his name with the role he played so well, but you'll have to change it when you see the latest of the J. Arthur Rank pictures, Anna Karenina.

The esteemed actor who paired off so well with Laurence Olivier (Sir Laurence, that is) was out making a new hit name for himself as Karenina while Sir Laurence was making Hamlet, Prince of Denmark, which you probably know all about if you read Life two weeks ago.

Opposite Richardson in this magnificent picture is the beautiful Cleopatra, Vivien Leigh, who brings a new and truly artistic interpretation to Anna.

Thus, Rank has hit the boxoffice jackpot again. His Great Expectations and Nicholas Nickleby matched his success in Caesar and Cleopatra. Now he has the three hits for this season Henry V; Hamlet, Prince of Denmark; and Anna Karenina.

Miss Leigh, herself, still plays Anna with traces of the child-like naiveté of her Cleopatra. Apparently, she'll just never get over that role; but, fortunately, such an interpretation is a decidedly fresh outlook on the character.

Mr. Richardson, needless to say, can play anything in almost any circumstance. His Falstaff has been recognized by critics on two continents as the best performance of that personage on any stage.

In short, if you enjoyed Caesar and Cleopatra and Henry V you'll most certainly like Anna Karenina; and if you didn't enjoy the aforementioned pictures—well, there are two Frankenstein pictures at the Keiths.

BOOKS

by John Scrimger

With the Private Papers of James Boswell from Alabicks Castle and Boswell's Journals as his primary source of research, D. B. Wyndham Lewis wrote his interesting biography of Johnson's biographer. He calls his book The Hooded Hawk.

He has taken an unexpected but refreshing turn in this biography in that he abandons the disparaging attitude toward Boswell of Macaulay, Vielliane and others. In the Hooded Hawk, Boswell is no longer the vulgar, carousing, disreputable person that most of his biographers would have him. Lewis, while not ignoring this, rather stresses the warm-heartedness and benevolence for which Boswell was noted.

With an interest that's understandable in Boswell's brief concern with the Catholic Church, Wyndham Lewis perhaps lays too much emphasis on a fact which in reality had little consequence on Boswell's actions and certainly no satisfying conclusion.

Though, of course, the subject of the Hooded Hawk limits its appeal to students of literature and Boswell's admirers, as background material it will appear immensely readable. Lewis has also departed from the dry scholarly method which is the mark of the majority of biographers; he has written his biography with delightful good humor and his lucid language cannot fail to please.

Editorials

Vashti McCollum

Vashti McCollum and the United States Supreme Court should feel very proud of themselves today. Among the ten of them—because of their recent decision concerning religious instruction in public schools—they have succeeded in destroying the concept of democracy which we Americans have preached and practiced for almost 150 years.

In their eagerness to divorce completely Church and State, Vashti and the nine old men have also overthrown the democratic idea of majority rule. From this time forward, using their decision as precedent, the individual may prevent any group activity which might "embarrass" him or run contrary to his own personal beliefs or whims.

The teetotaler, thanks to Vashti, is now at liberty to halt alcoholic consumption by the majority because it displeases him. The illiterate is free to close all schools and universities because a superfluity of educated people might embarrass him in his ignorance. Thank you, Vashti, you have done your countrymen an immeasurable service—and an immeasurable harm.

A Sad, Sad, Tale

The following editorial, laconically labeled "Charge," appeared in the March 5 issue of the Hopkins News-Letter:

"Loyola College officials charged Hopkins rooters one dollar per ticket to watch last week's basketball game at Evergreen. Whenever the Loyola teams visit Homewood—regardless of the event—their fans are admitted free of charge. Not only do they fill the visitor's section, but often Loyola rooters overflow into the Hopkins rooters' section.

"Other Hopkins opponents, in recognition of our athletic policy, send complimentary tickets to our athletic department when Hopkins teams are playing on their fields. The News-Letter suggests that Loyola offer this same courtesy to Hopkins rooters."

Such stirring editorials are fast becoming a News-Letter tradition

Letters To The Editor

THE GREYHOUND wishes to call the attention of the student body and alumni to the Letter To The Editor column.

Of late, the response to this medium of expression has not been impressive.

The Editorial Board looks forward to comments about Loyola and its activities from the Student Body, be those comments favorable or otherwise.

after each season's Loyola-Hopkins basketball game at Evergreen. Last year that distinguished publication shed bitter tears over the nasty, nasty seating situation prevalent in the Loyola gym.

THE GREYHOUND feels that the Athletic Department should accede to this reasonable demand. At next year's game let us throw the doors wide open, lay velvet carpets over those dirty old steps, provide soft cushions and backrests for the seats, and assign freshmen to administer to the needs and wishes of each Hopkins rooter. Then, and only then, may we hope to get to the bottom of the News-Letter's apparent sour grapes attitude. Could it be the fact that everytime a Hopkins basketball team visits Evergreen, it seems to depart on the short end of a lopsided score?

The Answers — for the Lazy!

For those of you who didn't bother to look up the answers to the quiz which appeared in the last issue of THE GREYHOUND, here they are:

1. Katchaturian was the Russian composer who was simultaneously praised by the Russian embassy in Washington and condemned by the Kremlin.
2. Holy Cross defeated Oklahoma in the NCAA basketball tournament last year.
3. Buchanan was the only President who never married.

Holy Week

Once again the Church observes the sorrowful days of Holy Week. Once again we are called upon to witness a Christ mocked, spit upon, crowned with thorns, scourged and finally crucified on Calvary. Once again we are faced with the unalterable fact that it was for our sins that He suffered and died, that it was for us that He established the unification of man and God we call Communion, that He gave us the greatest part and took for Himself the blackest portion of human existence.

It doesn't matter how you may or may not have observed the Lenten season. All that matters now is that you recognize the significance of these few days with the sorrowful Christ so that on Easter Sunday you may receive the triumphant Christ in Holy Communion.

Dear Sir:

Just an item of interest from the Sophomore Class portion of the "Sing Song" held at Notre Dame on March 6, 1948:

(sung to the strains of
4 Leaf Clover)

Now we will tell you what we have been thru
In our years at Notre Dame
First in the smoker we fought through the haze
Bridge mixed with studies, we found never pays Middies invading,
Loyola's fading,
Our week-ends become confused
Crammed at exam time, pleading for more time

Sincerely yours,
Margaret Mary Smith

Ed. Note: After receiving Miss Smith's letter, THE GREYHOUND staff held its own impromptu sing-song and dedicated to the Regiment of Midshipmen an "a capello" rendition of "Too Fat Polka."

Running With The Hounds

Hounds Look Forward To Continued Success

By Don Fay, Sports Editor

The last three weeks have produced more athletic news than the old place has had in quite a stretch. First off the bat, the basketball team cemented its hold on the top spot in the Mason-Dixon Conference by adding the playoffs trophy to the already-captured regular season championship. It's spring now, we know, but we can't let the cage season be set aside without mentioning a few words in retrospect about the accomplishments of Lefty Reitz's gang.

Their record of 24 and 6 (excluding Kansas City) was the best in Loyola history. Not only that, but the finest M-D log of only one defeat against 12 wins was hung up.

First in the conference, first in Maryland, and one of the leaders throughout the East was the position Loyola held, regardless of what some of the alleged experts had to say (Dunkel rating please take note.)

We see where the golf team has arranged for a series of lectures to be given by leading professional linksmen throughout the city for the benefit of all students interested in the sport. The club, under the leadership of Father Herlihy, the coach, plans to open with Andy Gibson on April 2. The clinic will be divided into six talks and admission will be fifty cents per head. All students are invited.

The purpose of the clinic is to acquaint students with the game in general, and also, stress is to be placed on the particular phases of the sport. It's a novel move, a sign of interest on the part of the golfers, and a project which should receive the support of those who are interested.

Of important interest, if not secondary in news value, was the cage team's rejuvenated showing in the second half against Emporia State in the N. A. I. B. tourney in Kansas City. Behind by fifteen points at the half, Reitz's gang put up a terrific fight before bowing out in the 65-57 tiff. Lacy and Mike Zedalis each had three fouls slapped on them early, and therefore had to proceed along cautious lines. The eventual ejection of these two and Tom Gisriel in the closing minutes was too big an obstacle to overcome.

While on the subject of outstanding performances, let's not overlook the job turned in by the swimming team of Franny Mueller in the recent swim tournament in Washington. Outscoring its nearest rival by 14 points, the team left no doubt to its superiority over Mason-Dixon foes, having been unbeaten in league competition throughout the regular schedule. This showing, plus the cage title and the great job by the wrestlers in the tourney ends what was beyond a shadow a big winter campaign.

That brings us to spring, and without getting overconfident, it's reasonable to assume that more trophies will be in the showcase when hostilities are over in baseball, tennis, lacrosse, golf and track. The batch of letter winners from last season plus the new crop of talented aspirants in the various sports means that at least Loyola will not be out of consideration.

The Hounds are already ahead of last season's championships, with two at this point, and with the spring squads looking up, precedents may well be broken come early June.

Swimming

Team Takes M-D Title

by Gene Corrigan

The tankmen brought Loyola's second 1948 Mason-Dixon championship home two weeks ago when they planted the annual tournament trophy atop Lefty Reitz's cabinet.

Awarded at American University on Saturday, March 14, the trophy represented 63 points earned by churning team members. The Hounds posted two new records in beating Hopkins, which had 49 points and one new record to its credit, and American U., which had 34 points.

These records were set by Jake Fisher, who covered 50 yards in 25.2 seconds in the trials; Clint Bamberger, whose fastest time in the 200 Breaststroke was bettered two hours later by Plummer of Catholic U. (2:41.1); and Charles Wanner of Hopkins, who took 2:35.8 minutes to go 220 yards freestyle.

Loyola placed at least one man in each event of the finals. Jake Fisher was disqualified on a turn in the 100 free trials; otherwise he would have undoubtedly been eligible for the finals in this event as well as the 50. Ed Miller finished too late to place in the breaststroke, due to the slowness of the heat in which he raced. He had turned in better times in this event all year. Both Joe Hauf and Andy McCormick finished in qualifying time for the 300 yard individual medley, that novelty event seen only during tournaments.

Catholic University and Randolph-Macon were the other competing teams. The summaries:

FINALS: 300 Medley: L. (Maskell, Dunn, Klarner); A. U.; R-M; J. H.; C. U.; 3:31.0.

220 Free: Wanner, J. H.; Blondell, L.; Kimball, C. U.; Brooks, J. H.; Levy, R-M; 2:35.8 (record).

50 Free: Fisher, L.; Marriett, J. H.; Gately, L.; Keskey, J. H.; Wall, C. U.; 25.2 (record).

Dive: Mohler, L.; York, R-M; Gunning, L.; Herald, C. U.; Carter, A. U.

HERB MEINERT says a few words at the reception tended the varsity basketball team on its return from Kansas City and the N. A. I. B. tournament. Meinert speaks before the crowd of almost four hundred which thronged into the gym recreation room.

Four Hundred Welcome Hounds Home At Mount Royal Station

Approximately four hundred students gathered at Mount Royal Station on Thursday, March 11, to welcome home from the N. A. I. B. Tournament at Kansas City, the Loyola Greyhounds, champions of the Mason-Dixon Conference.

Cowbells, flares, shotguns and whistles were blended together to form one resounding blast of welcome as the team stepped off the train.

Procession Follows

Following a few introductory remarks by members of the team at the station, the students formed behind a motorcycle escort and dashed over the streets of Baltimore to Loyola.

A welcoming party, prepared by Joseph Parlett, Robert Sweeney, Spencer Davidson, Robert Roesner and James Fusting, greeted the arrivals. A collection among the students had netted one hundred and thirty dollars.

Team Members Speak

Each of the team members were called upon to deliver a few words to the noisy audience. Coach Lefty Reitz paid tribute to the great second half attempt which the team had made in the tournament game.

The Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., closed the addresses with a word of congratulations to the squad both as basketball players and as outstanding College men.

Testimonial Dinner

Last Saturday afternoon, a group of Loyola-spirited men gave a testimonial dinner at the Stafford Hotel in honor of the varsity basketball team. The team, a large segment of the student body and dates, members of the faculty and several speakers were on hand for the occasion.

The Line-Up

Clint Bamberger Holds National Title

by Mickey Parr

(This is another in a series of articles on outstanding Loyola athletes.)

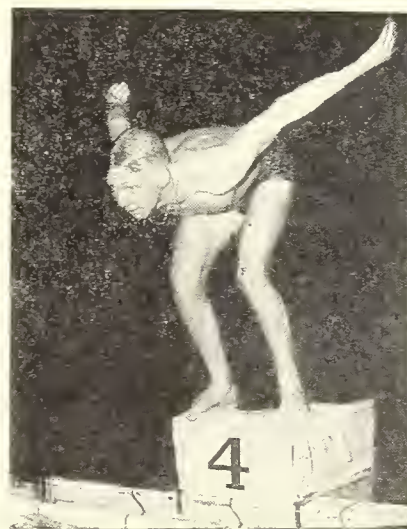

Hollywood may have its technicolor movies, but here at Loyola the swimming team will be satisfied to hold on to its very capable "technicolor" swimmer, Clinton Bamberger.

This may seem a strange cognomen with which to tag the breaststroking ace of the Greyhound outfit, who, incidentally, are champions of the Mason-Dixon Conference, but its origin is very sound.

When Bamberger begins his arduous 200-yard splash his body is a normal, white skin color. However, his mates claim that, during the progress of the race, a reddish tinge replaces the white, and by the time he taps the pool's edge at the finish, the metamorphosis is complete. The blue shade which comes from cold water swimming, does not leave Bamberger an exception.

Let's break into a serious vein now, and consider the achievements of Coach Franny Mueller's colorful merman. This past season was the second under Loyola colors for Clint and he managed to post the outstanding individual record of the squad.

In nine dual meets he outstroked

the field seven times, and placed second in the other pair. Moreover, in one of these latter (against Dickinson), he was under orders from the coach to relax during the 200-yard breaststroke, so that he might be able to fill in for a sick teammate in the 440.

Those two defeats weren't hard to take, however, since it was Bill Klarner, another Greyhound tankman, who took over the honors.

Most impressive feat of the 1947-48 season, turned in by this husky blonde athlete, was registered outside of Collegiate competition. In the A. A. U. sponsored National Junior Championships held at the Washington (D.C.) Boys Club, Bamberger grabbed the gold medal from the nation's best.

Swimming isn't the only athletic accomplishment for Clint. This spring will mark his third campaign as a midfielder for the Greyhound lacrosse contingent.

Not only has he reached varsity status in two sports, which weren't represented on the athletic program while he was at Loyola High School, but his swimming marks have been established in an event which is not his natural forte.

The pool ace came to Evergreen as a freestyler, but the lack of an accomplished breaststroker among the swimming candidates caused his coach to persuade him to switch to this event. His immediate success is evident over the past two seasons.

The only man who has bested Clint's lowest time for the 200-yard breaststroke in the Evergreen pool is Joe Verdeur, La Salle's world champion tankman.

Bamberger, who is 21 years old, weighs 170 pounds, and stands an even 6 feet, also served as Co-captain of the Greyhound natators.

Tennis And Golf

Colimore Hopes For Repeat Job In Tennis; Golfers Optimistic

TENNIS

Warm weather means tennis, and tennis means champion teams at Loyola. At least, Vince Colimore hopes this holds true as he girds his varsity netmen for action in the coming season which opens on April 2.

A suicide two-month, seventeen-match schedule has been lined up, and it will be a feather in Colimore's cap if he can even approximate the job he did last spring when his charges walked off with the Mason-Dixon Conference title, and lost only one match against all comers in fourteen outings.

Nine M-D Meets Carded

Besides nine M-D matches, the team will take on Seton Hall (the Pirates provide the Hounds with their first taste of action on the second), La Salle, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, University of Baltimore and Georgetown. It was the latter squad which beat the team last year for its only loss, and the Hounds will be gunning for the Hoyas in their match at Evergreen on May 4.

Talent? That little commodity seems to be taken care of, inasmuch as several of the racqueteers who did such a near-perfect job a year ago are still in Green and Gray togs. Indications are that Frank Scrivener, number two man in 1947, will step up to the top post this year. Scrivener, a left-handed swinger, had an excellent record against collegiate competition, and Colimore is counting heavily on a repeat performance.

Other Veterans Back

Other notables who are back for more are Jim Lacy, unbeaten in the number four slot in 1947, Gene Nolan, Jerry Laroque, Hank Linz, and Dick Tompkins.

Colimore has issued a call for anyone who wishes to try out for the team.

Frank Scrivener

Lacrosse Team Starts Practice

With another ambitious eight-game schedule ahead, Bish Baker's lacrosse crew is undergoing rigorous practice in hopes of improving on their record of last year. In 1947, Baker's boys, mainly a freshman group, won only one of eight engagements, but this came at the close of the year, after definite improvement had been noted.

Many of last year's standouts will be back, and Baker hopes to have his club in condition early. Main reason for this move is the fact that within a week and a half, the team will be in the midst of their campaign. First on the list of opponents are Hopkins, Yale and Maryland. With an imposing trio like that waiting to be faced, it is obvious that the team must make its best showing early.

Ray Wittelsberger, Bob DeLisle, Ed Hughes, Boots Blondell, Clint Bamberger, Bob Rogers and Skip Barry are a few of the racquet wielders who are likely to see action.

GOLF

With at least four performers due to be back from last year's Mason-Dixon championship squad, things are looking up for Loyola's chances of having a successful golf season.

The Rev. William V. Herlihy, S. J., again at the helm this season after directing the fortunes of the squad during its campaign in 1947, is looking forward toward another winning record.

Four Back

Leo Haslbeck, Tom Gisriel, Len Saltysiak and Bill Davis will be the "big fore" of the team, since they all saw plenty of the action on the champ team.

Fr. Herlihy plans to use the Mount Pleasant course for home matches again. Four of the nine matches scheduled are slated to be held at home.

A quartet of the meets are to be with Mason-Dixon Conference foes, Mt. St. Mary's, Western Maryland, Hopkins and Washington College.

Burgess Turned Pro

The four non-conference opponents are Georgetown, University of Baltimore, La Salle and Villanova.

Ward Burgess, who turned pro last summer, Bernie Saltysiak and Jerry Crawford are the three men from last year's team who did not return.

Approximately twenty players reported for the team's first practice of the year, and are waging a dog-fight to keep in the running for the six positions on the team.

Spotlight On Sports

THE GREYHOUND plans to spotlight each of the spring sports in succeeding issues. In this edition, the baseball team is given particular emphasis. In following copies, the lacrosse, golf, track and tennis teams will be given mention.

Continuation of the The Line-Up is planned, and beginning with the issue of April 16, individual writeups of outstanding spring athletes will be given. Since Loyola will be represented by five teams, more than one athlete will be spotlighted each time.

In addition, the planned sports poll will be held in the near future, and the results will be published in a following issue.

Jack Blondell won the meet with his first in the 440, after swimming in four events totalling three quarters of a mile. Coach Franny Mueller got his sixth Conference ducking this year.

McElroy Drills Fifty Runners

by Charlie Kimmel

Spring track at Evergreen was off with a bang two weeks ago as almost fifty hopeful harriers, including nine major lettermen, greeted coach Bill McElroy on the first day of practice.

Since then, the tracksters have been getting set for a practice meet slated for the morning of April 10 at Evergreen with the Baltimore Olympic Club.

The regular season calls for meets with Johns Hopkins, West Chester Teachers College, St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, Gallaudet, Towson State Teachers College, and Washington College, along with the Penn Relays and the Mason-Dixon tournament.

The biggest segment of the squad is comprised of sprinters and hurdlers. Most promising among the sprintmen is freshman John Brunk, who finished fourth against heavy competition in the South Atlantic meet at the 5th Regiment Armory. Walt Smyth, Tom Maskell, and Alan Tustin are expected to perform timber topping tasks for the Hounds during the coming season.

The two-mile event again is in capable hands. George Brown will see to that. Half-milers include Jim Kaufman and John Paszek. Tom Petr, Mike McNeal, and Vince Gallagher will high jump. Shot and discus chores will be handled by Bob Roesner and Jeep Mueller.

A new feature, the pole vault, will become a part of Loyola meets. Formerly, costly points had been forfeited to visiting teams, since the campus lacked a pole vault pit. This is now being installed at the south end of the oval. Candidates for this event are Gerry Kimmett and Lou Roche.

Intramurals

Chilton Wins Cage Title; Ward Top Bowler

Chilton A. C. expanded its grip on intramural champ titles this year by annexing the basketball crown last week. The Chilton squad thus added another prize to its football trophy taken in the fall.

The winners gained the championship by knocking off Sweitzer's Swishers, 30-26, in the final tilt of the playoffs conducted between the champs of the individual leagues.

Final standings, announced by intramural director Franny Mueller, are as follows: Chilton, Sweitzer's Swishers and the Devereux Decrepits.

In addition to stopping the Swishers, Chilton topped Decrepit, 29-7, and the Blanks, 33-24. The Swishers defeated the Blanks, 34-33, while Decrepit downed the Greyhound, 40-11, and lost to the Blanks, 29-21.

The playoffs concluded a lengthy season in which six leagues operated for two months with thorough schedules provided by Mueller.

On the bowling front, the first annual pin tournament was brought to a close last week. Ed Ward captured the top prize, a handsome gold trophy, by rolling up 1807 points. Ward thereby took first honors from a field of nearly one hundred which saw action on the Guilford Bowling Alleys on York Road.

John Norjin, with 1805, was second best in the standings, and was the recipient of another gold trophy. Third, fourth and fifth places went to Carl Eckels (1775), Gerard Pondo (1759) and Louis Fritz (1759).

Mueller plans to have a fairly full schedule for the spring, with schedules in softball probably taking the maximum interest.

Baseball

Reitz Drills Bingers For Opener Against Mt. St. Mary's On April 8

Twenty-two baseball games in two months is a gruelling schedule to keep, but that's the situation Lefty Reitz and his varsity baseball hopefuls face as they make ready for the 1948 season which opens collegiate competition on April 8.

Mount Saint Mary's will be the opponent on that afternoon at Evergreen, and before the Hounds take the field, they will have had a month of drilling under their belts.

Wealth of lettermen in all departments gives indication that Loyola may well repeat the job of capturing the Mason-Dixon title as in 1947.

Infield Intact

The starting infield is intact, although changes are, of course, possible. Harry Shock holds down the first base job, Jack Whalen is stationed at second, Jim Carmody plays shortstop, and third base duties are in the hands of Tommy Lind.

Ben Spurrier, John Boone and Johnny Amer comprised the starting outfield last year, and this trio may again be starters. However, several other garden guardians are putting in definite bids for jobs, and the above three may have to step on the gas to hold their posts.

Graduation of starter Jack Wintz last July leaves the catching slot open to a couple of second string varsity men and several newcomers, chief among whom is Mike Zedalis, basketball star.

Pitching seems to be the question mark of the team at this writing. Sid Roche, bellwether of the staff last year, has departed and duties fall upon Neill Cole, Dick Farace and southpaw Bill Carroll.

Farace Won Six

Cole flipped some neat games for the Hounds last year, and is counted on heavily. Farace could be the leader of the staff, if his shoulder comes along alright. The stocky pitcher separated it in intramural football last fall. Dick won six games and lost three in 1947.

Carroll may develop into the surprise of the spring. This left-handed curve ball artist had an outstanding prep school record at Poly, and came up with a no-hitter last season in a M-D tilt against American University.

"Ocean City" In Rehearsal

Rehearsals for the Ocean City scene of Marelyn!, the satire on the State to be produced by Loyola College the last week in April, are currently being held under the guidance of George Herman, student director.

The Ocean City scene, almost entirely ballet, is set in "Sackson's," remarkably similar to a well-known night-club at the Maryland seashore. Otherwise known in the play as "No Man's Land," the "City" is depicted entirely in that light. Two songs are included in the scene.

The production includes a total of thirteen scenes and 10 roles. Robert Custer is cast as "Yardley" (the narrator drawn after the Sunday Sun cartoonist), who convinces Dick Coleman, (playing himself), that Maryland is not all it is cracked up to be. Bob DeLisle and Bill Mullikin are also featured in the production.

"The script is in process of revision now," Don Swartz, co-author of the play, said. "Several scenes have been dropped, others added, and much of the dialogue is being rewritten."

Mr. William-M. J. Driscoll, S. J., is moderator of the production. It will be presented April 26, 27, and 28 at the Cadoa.
